Rights - Fiction Monday, 9th March 2026

*The deal includes The House Swap and You Know Me, Darling, featuring Chaudhuri's 'trademark twists and creeping darkness'*

Joffe Books has signed three books by A A Chaudhuri. Publishing director Kate Lyall-Grant has bought world rights for The House Swap, You Know Me, Darling, and one untitled novel from Annette Crossland at A for Authors Agency.

Lyall-Grant said: "I've been watching A. A. Chaudhuri's career from afar for a few years now; I've long been an admirer - and I'm over the moon that she'll be joining Joffe Books with her latest twisty, suspenseful and darkly imaginative psychological thrillers. In each book, she's come up with a killer hook, which will have readers gripped from the get-go, and I can't wait to introduce her to a legion of new fans."

Chaudhuri said: "I'm beyond delighted to have signed The House Swap and You Know Me, Darling with the brilliant Joffe Books. Both stories feature my trademark twists and creeping darkness, with flawed complex characters who will mess with your mind until both books' shocking conclusions. I can't wait for my loyal readers to dive into them and am so thrilled to be working with Kate and the Joffe team. Their dynamism, vision and expertise in the digital market is second to none, and I'm so excited for this new chapter in my writing career."

Crossland said: "We are so excited to be working with Kate and the fabulous team at Joffe Books on these brilliant psychological thrillers, and we look forward to helping to make these thrillers a huge international success."
